DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 34-35, 39-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Murcia et al. in view of Hermanson. (U.S. 5,581,284)

Murcia et al. teach the instant claimed printing apparatus and method of correcting (characterized by correction module 76) and compensating nozzles failure except for printing the black ink in substitution for the non-operative nozzles corresponding to non-black color recording ink.

Hermanson teaches detecting the problem nozzle and compensating the missing dot corresponding to the problem nozzle with ink of different color. For example, black ink can be filled in for missing cyan or magenta droplets (col.5, lines 18-23). Therefore, It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute the missing non-black color ink with the black color ink in Murcia et al. as taught by Hermanson for preventing the missing spot and providing adequate printing quality.

Allowable Subject Matter
